Funeral Services Over the Remains of Eugene Field.
(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The final obsequies over the remains of Eugene Field were performed this afternoon. The services were held in the Fourth Presbyterian Church, and were attended by hundreds of the deceased's friends and admirers. After the organ voluntary, the choir rendered "Aldo With Me," in a peculiarly touching and appropriate manner. The Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Hall then read the scripture lesson, and followed it with a prayer. The address by the Rev. Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus was given in a masterly style, yet with that deep feeling that showed the strong man's heart was touched, for the poet and preacher were friends. Following the address by Dr. Gunsaulus, the hymn, "Singings in God's Acre," the poet's own words, was sung. The audience was deeply moved, and when the refrain, "Sleep, O sleep, the Shepherd's guard," His sheep were rendered, those in attendance were moved to tears. The Rev. F. M. Bristol made the second address, and showed what a strong hold the quiet poet had taken on his heart. The choir then rendered "Lead, Kindly Light," that hymn so often sung over the true and great.

The third address was by another old friend and associate of Eugene Field, Luther Lavin Mills. After another selection by the choir, the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Bristol, and the body was taken to Graceland Cemetery.

It was a remarkable funeral in many respects, for the number of friends who gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to the man they had loved, for the deep sorrow and keen sense of personal bereavement that bore heavily upon them all, for the mass of floral testimonials sent by those who had loved Eugene Field, for the genial warmth of his kindly heart, for the pathos and the beauty that had ever surrounded his use of his glorious gift of song by those who honored him for his genius and loved him, but especially was it noteworthy for the quality of the men who stood around the bier, the druggist, the poet, the lawyer, the statesman, the clergyman, the merchant, the statesman stood side by side. Not only from his admirers in America, but from his admirers in Europe, and from the Paris and other cities of the Old World told how highly he was esteemed and how deeply loved by his friends beyond the sea.

THOSE MINERAL LANDS.

Secretary Hoke Smith Rules in Favor of the Railroad.
(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—In denying a protest made by a citizen of California against the patenting of lands in Southern California to the Southern Pacific Railroad because the same were mineral, the Secretary of the Interior says that every effort had been made to ascertain the character of the lands previous to the time when patents were about to issue. The Secretary adds that the country in which the lands are located is well explored and it is presumed that if mineral exists it would have been found previous to the present time.

As to the mineral lands in Montana and Idaho, to which the protest alludes, he says it is to be presumed that if Congress had thought it necessary to have the same precautions taken in California that State would have been included in the law providing for mineral commissioners. He says that possibly in patenting lands to the Southern Pacific some tracts may be included which are mineral, but they will be so rare as to be of little importance.

LATE RETURNS

They Show Kentucky is Republican.

Bradley Is a Possibility for President.

Utah's Future Placed in the Hands of the Grand Old Party.

"Sound-money" Democrats Triumph Over the Silver Faction in Nebraska—Aftermath of the Great Battle of the Ballots.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(Special Dispatch.) It was a landslide. Republicanism was triumphant on Tuesday, save in this city, where the local issue was paramount. New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Ohio, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Kansas and the youthful Utah are all in line. Loyalty and magnificently strong for the campaign of 1896. Every State but two in which elections were held gave splendid majorities for the Republican ticket. These two were Mississippi and Virginia. They and Tammany Hall are the only surviving enemies.

In New York the entire State ticket was elected. Gen. John M. Palmer, candidate for Secretary of State, polled 137,670 votes. He led the ticket. Both branches of the Legislature are officially Republican. It will be 22 in the Senate and 55 in the Assembly, thus giving on joint ballot a majority of 73. All old leaders who were candidates have been returned. Senator Lexow increased his majority in his district.

New Jersey redeemed itself. For the first time in nearly thirty years, the State elected a Republican Governor. It is the State in which Grover Cleveland was born, and which placed his name in nomination at Chicago in 1892. On Tuesday it not only elected John W. Griggs, a stalwart Republican, but gave him 25,543 majority. His opponent, Chancellor McGill, was a good man, and hence the victory is a still greater repudiation of Democratic rule. New Jersey also elected a Republican Legislature.

Maryland buried Democracy, and did it neatly, and at the right time. A full Republican ticket, State and Legislative, was carried. Baltimore went Republican on the day of the election, and Howard county, the home of Senator Gorman, gave Lowmire a substantial plurality. Republicans will have such a working majority in the Legislature as will undoubtedly insure the election of their own man for Governor. In the Democratic colleague of Gorman in the United States Senate.

Ohio, by 110,000 plurality, said nay to James E. Campbell when he asked if it would elect him, and thus place him in nomination for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Kentucky merits lavish promises. She not only elected Bradley, Republican candidate for Governor, by a plurality in excess of 5000, but there is more than a possibility that Bradley will go to the United States Senate from this old Bourbon State. For the House of Representatives, the Republicans have elected 50 and the Democrats 41 members. Nine districts are in doubt. Most of these, judging from the vote given by the Democrats, will be held over Senators and fourteen Democrats. It is improbable that either party will have more than one majority. It was a Republican avalanche.

Massachusetts exceeded itself. It elected Greenhalge Governor by 63,444 plurality, which is 1508 more than was given him in 1894.

Pennsylvania was, of course, Republican. The State Treasurer, formerly Benjamin J. Haywood, the Republican, was elected by a plurality of 162,664.

Iowa's rebuke to the Democracy was emphatic. The Republicans carried the State by 80,000. The next House majority was 24 to 16 in favor of the Democrats. When Senator Allison comes up for re-election next winter he will get 116 out of the 150 votes to be cast.

Nebraska had only a Congressman and some judges in Cook county to elect, but it went the right way, 2200.

Nebraska elected its whole Republican State ticket by a plurality in excess of 10,000.

Utah did not have the question of Republicanism and Democracy specifically before it. Practically it had, inasmuch as the regular Republicans favored the adoption of the new Constitution, which was adopted.

THE GAIN IN SENATORS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—As a result of the latest election returns the Republicans gain five United States Senators, two from Utah and one each from Kentucky, Ohio and Maryland, and the Democrats lose three Senators, one each from Maryland, Kentucky and Ohio. None of these changes become operative, however, until March 4, 1896, except in the case of the two Utah Senators, who will take their seats as soon as Congress convenes.

Thereafter the numerical strength of the Senate will be: Republican, 45; Democrats, 35; Populists, 6; vacant (Delaware), 1; total, 90.

KENTUCKY.

BRADLEY'S VICTORY HAS MADE HIM DESIRABLE.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Nov. 6.—Col. W. O. Bradley, who yesterday carried Kentucky for the Republicans in the gubernatorial election, will be the choice of his State for the Presidency, and his friends claim that he will have the support of the Southern Republicans.

It is a significant fact that the friends of Gov. Morton, as well as the political champions of Gov. McKinley, have all been in constant correspondence with the friends of Col. Bradley, and have urged (about to push his claims for the second place on the ticket. Col. Bradley has heretofore refused to discuss the matter, but tonight it is announced by Walter Forsaker, secretary of Col. Bradley's Campaign Committee, and managing editor of the Commercial, the Republican organ of the State, that Col. Bradley's claims for national recognition will be urged in the next national convention.

Gen. Dudley was in Louisville during the Grand Army encampment, and had a long conference with Col. Bradley's friends, in which the importance of Kentucky was discussed, and the possibility of its representatives in Congress having the deciding voice in the election of President should be thrown into the House. Gen. Dudley declared that the Democrats would not be able to put up, because of the personal animosity of the Ohio-Kentucky combination, the friends of Gov. Morton are urging the Bradley people to support the New York man on the ground that the geographical position of New York and Kentucky would render a joint nomination for President almost decisive in favor of Bradley's nomination.

The friends of Gov. Morton are arguing that McKinley and Bradley would make the strongest ticket that could be put up, because of the personal animosity of the two men, and the prestige that they enjoy of having won many gallant victories. It is also urged in favor of the Ohio-Kentucky combination that it would thus divest the ticket of any extreme tendencies on either side, and would be a possibility, both men representing State interests, and manufacturing and agricultural interests are of nearly equal importance, and when the sentiment is decidedly conservative.

Col. Bradley will come to Louisville tomorrow from his home in Lancaster and will consult with his friends and a presidential aspirant.

STATE TICKET AND LEGISLATURE. LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Nov. 6.—Republicans claim and Democratic concede: a vote tonight that not only has Kentucky elected the full Republican State ticket, but the completion of the Legislature assures a Republican success to the State Auditor, Norman, the Democratic campaign chairman, in a statement to the Commercial, said that Blackburn's defeat is assured.

"The Republicans, with the help of the Populists, will assuredly control the Legislature," he said, "and Blackburn is sure to be defeated. Kentucky is now a Republican State. The people wanted a change and they took it, the Republicans being aided by both Populists and the A.P.A. No one could have carried Kentucky at this election, not even Carlisle."

Dr. W. S. Hunter, chairman of the Republican State Campaign Committee, refused to make an estimate as to majorities. "The Republican State ticket is elected by round pluralities," he said, "and the Legislature will be Republican on joint ballot, but I won't make any guesses. I am waiting for authentic figures."

The Commercial tomorrow will claim that the Republicans are certain of a majority in the Legislature on joint ballot. The Commercial's figures show the composition of the lower house as follows: Republicans, 54; Democrats, 36. The vote for C. W. (Pop.) will be about 15,000 less than last year's Populist vote of 49,000. The only contention of the Populists is the election of W. F. Conley for State Senator in the Thirty-second District. Conley was endorsed by the Republicans and defeated Lawlor of Lima. The vote of Senator Brice. He has declared for Foraker for Senator.

There have been several changes in the legislative results from last night, the Democratic minority being reduced in each instance. At present the Senate will stand: Republicans, 30; Democrats, 6; Fusion-Populists, 1. In the House the Republicans have 57, and the Democrats 25. Rev. Hofer (Rep.) of Burke county, and Keifer (Rep.) of Sandusky may pull through. The Republicans have a majority of 57 on joint ballot.

GARFIELD'S SON A WINNER. AKRON (O.) Nov. 6.—James R. Garfield, son of the late President, was elected State Senator from the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-sixth districts by a large majority. The district was normally Republican by 10,000, but he carried it by over 14,000. Running with him on the Republican ticket was Senator Whittlesey, who has been State Senator for several years. Garfield's plurality is greater than his by 2000.

The district which he will represent is almost identically the same as when his father was first chosen in 1857.

to the office. A remarkable coincidence was the fact that Garfield was nominated on July 2, the fourteenth anniversary of his father's assassination. He is a graduate of the Columbia Law School of New York, and for several years has practiced law in Cleveland. His residence in Montpelier, Vermont.

THE CHAIRMAN AND THE PLURALITY. COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 6.—Chairman Anderson, of the Democratic State Committee, says that the reports up to 1 o'clock show a Republic plurality of from 80,000 to 85,000. Chairman Kurtz of the Republican State Committee says the plurality will be 35,000.

HAMILTON COUNTY FIGURES.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6.—The plurality for Bushnell in Hamilton county, with one precinct missing, is 11,953.

NEW YORK.

UNOFFICIAL VOTE GIVES PALMER 65,335 PLURALITY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Late returns from all sections of the State do not lessen the extent of the Republican victory in New York. The total vote, unofficially compiled, gives Palmer, for Secretary of State, at the head of the Republican ticket a plurality of 65,335, while his Democratic opponent, King, polled 505,590, making the Republican plurality, 65,335. While this is, of course, a falling off from the phenomenal plurality of 156,108 given to Gov. Morton last year, it shows a large gain over Palmer's plurality of 54,484 in 1893, the last minor-office year. Both branches of the State Legislature will be Republican by a majority more than two to one. Although Tammany elected most of the Assemblymen in the city, the seats gained by the Republicans with the present complexion of the Senate gives a Republican majority of 44 on joint ballot.

The Tammany victory in the city is not greatly changed by the complete returns from the estimates of last night. The head of the Tammany ticket, Purroy, candidate for County Clerk, has a majority of 16,000. The Fusionists figure that Tammany's majority was gained by the stay-at-home, and not by gained in votes, because while last year Grant, for Mayor, polled 109,000 votes, and was defeated by 45,000, yesterday William Schermer, the Tammany candidate for Mayor, polled 109,000 votes, and was defeated by 45,000, or only 12,000 more than Grant, and was elected by more than 16,000. Had Grant polled the number of votes given to Schermer, he would still have been defeated by more than 20,000.

THE STATE SENATE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Corrected returns from nearly all election districts show that the State Senate consists of 35 Republicans, 14 Democrats, 1 Independent; Assembly, 99 Republicans; 51 Democrats.

TAMMANY'S SECRETARY STABBED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—John B. McGoldrick, Clerk of the Supreme Court and secretary of Tammany Hall, is lying in a dangerous condition at his home, the result of a stab wound received in the chest yesterday. Although the affair is said to have occurred at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, no report was made of it. McGoldrick, a bartender, was arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court today, charged with having stabbed McGoldrick. The patrolman who had Dowling in charge would say little about the case, and even tried to belittle it to the magistrate.

The officer said that yesterday afternoon McGoldrick came up to him on the street and asked him to arrest Dowling, who, he said, had hit him on the head with a glass. "That is all there is to it," concluded the officer.

Dr. Schenck, police surgeon, who examined McGoldrick, made the following statement: "This is to certify that John B. McGoldrick is suffering from a punctured wound, which has penetrated the right thoracic cavity, and which may have wounded the lung. His condition is very critical and fatal complications may arise."

TAMMANY RAN BEHIND.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—In this city the majority for the Democratic State ticket is approximately 10,000 greater than the average majority for Tammany local candidates, which range from 2,500 for Segrul for Recorder, to 17,000 for Burroy for County Clerk. MORE THAN DOUBLE HIS PLURALITY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The total unofficial vote for Secretary of State is King (Dem.) 565,590; Palmer (Rep.) 572,535. This makes Palmer's plurality 65,335. The vote in 1893 was: Palmer, 545,084; Myer, 530,614; Palmer's plurality, 24,470.

A Very Swell Affair with Rich Floral and Dress-Goods Accompaniments.

The Church Services Followed by a Pretty Reception and Breakfast. Description of the Trousseau and Decorations.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Duke of Marlborough and Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt were married at St. Thomas's Church, Fifth avenue and Fifty-third street, today at 12:30 o'clock.

By 8 o'clock women monopolized the entrance of the Twombly mansion, adjoining the church, and later arrivals took possession of the railings, doors, garden plots, and in some instances the window sills. As the hour for opening and Cuttings arrived early and chatted pleasantly while they waited for the doors to open.

The Duke, accompanied by his best man, the Hon. Ivor Guest, drove to the church, and on alighting, they were greeted by a warm reception. When the bride, who was accompanied by her father, arrived at the church the crowd was something tremendous, and the bride leaned heavily on her father's arm as he assisted her from the carriage. The police on duty prevented a rush, and a passageway was kept open from the church entrance to the bridal carriage.

When the newly-wedded couple left the sacred edifice to be driven to the bride's home, the surging mass cheered again and again, and many thousands of people lined the walk from the church to the residence of the bride on Seventy-second street.

Mrs. Vanderbilt and Sir Julian Pauncefote, representing the Duke's family, entered the church through different doors shortly before noon. The bridegroom, accompanied by the best man, walked from the vestry to the chancel rail, where they were joined by the bride. Miss Vanderbilt was preceded by the bridesmaids. She followed, leaning upon the arm of her father, W. K. Vanderbilt. When the bride reached the chancel rail, the choir, accompanied by the organ and harp, sang: "O Perfect Love, All Perfect Love Abounding," set to music by Barnaby. At its conclusion Dr. Brown, the rector, delivered the introductory and charge. Dr. Brown was followed who, as they stood beneath the huge floral bell, received congratulations. As soon as the guests had all arrived the bride and groom were driven to breakfast, which was prepared by Mrs. Vanderbilt's own chef. At the breakfast table, Sir Julian Pauncefote read the cablegrams sent on behalf of the Queen and the Prince of Wales, congratulating the Duke and newly-wedded Duchess upon the occasion of their wedding.

When the Duke arose to respond to the toast of the bride and bridegroom, the bride slipped away to don her traveling dress. The bride and groom and the young couple left for the East Thirty-fourth-street ferry en route to Long Island City, and took a special train to Oakdale, where they were met by a brief honeymoon at W. K. Vanderbilt's country residence, "Idle Hour."

The traveling dress of the Duchess was a dark-blue cloth and crimson velvet, crimson being conspicuous in the fur-bordered toque. The Duke and Duchess will visit some points South, notably Richmond, Va., during their honeymoon trip.

The trousseau proper was made in New York, and in detail is the most elaborate and costly outfit ever selected for an American bride. The wedding gown was made by Donovon and is an ivory creation. The material is very light ivory satin, of delicate cream tint, with a flounce of point applique and point Brussels lace, twelve inches deep, which is arranged in four horizontal rows across the front and sides of the skirt, entirely concealing the satin. On the right side is a long spray of orange blossoms, which trails on the front and side panels of the skirt. The corsage is draped with chiffon, gathered full from the collar to waistband and partly covered with a deep flounce of lace, which binds the collar and hangs in graceful pose in the belt. Triple reverses of lace project over the sleeves, which are pleated full into the armholes and cut in gausest style below the elbow, which is devoid of trimming. A spray of orange blossoms is fastened on the left shoulder and hangs gracefully over the sleeve.

The court train is five yards in length, falling in double pleats from top to bottom. The train is fastened to the shoulders below the neckband, and is bordered with a delicate embroidery of pearls and silver, representing rose leaves tied together with ribbon-like knots. The train is the regulation prescribed by the Lord Chamberlain for presentation to the Queen at the Court of St. James, and the gown, with the addition of a decollete bodice, will be worn by the Duchess when she is presented to Her Majesty. The bridal veil is of Brussels lace, fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms. The lingerie is of the very finest silk cambric and Irish linen, with exquisite lace.

St. Thomas Church was converted into a veritable conservatory of rare tropical foliage and vines. The walls were lined with rare palms and ferns were used to a large extent in the decoration of the ceiling and the roof, which served as a background for the pink and white blossoms used in the decorations.

At the home of the bride the decorations were unique as to scheme and color. Pink tints predominated. Palms were largely used in the decoration of the hall, and were so grouped in banks of chrysanthemums as to transform and have the appearance of an arena of courtyard garden. The marble trellis of the staircase was draped with ferns, banked with pink and yellow chrysanthemums and edged with roses of a deeper tint.

In the reception-room a row of tall South American tree ferns, over 800 years of age, were arranged in front of all the windows facing Madison avenue. Five of these tree ferns were used as a canopy, from which was suspended a bell of the rarest kind in the world, a circumstance, under which their grace received the guests bidden to the breakfast.

The dining-room was decorated largely in pink and white lilacs of the valley, and exquisite orchids, which were brought expressly from Blenheim, the ducal seat. The bride's table, which was laid for eighteen covers, was banked through its entire length with the lilacs of the valley and white orchids. The tables for the guests were decorated with lilacs and white and pink orchids.

The gown worn by Mrs. Vanderbilt at the wedding was also by Donovon. It was of blue-black satin of exquisite texture. The skirt is full-gored, cut long at the back, and is severely plain save for a two-inch-wide border of brown Russian sable, with which it is trimmed. The bodice is cut with a tight-fitting coat-seamed back, terminating in two full box-pleats reaching some below the waist line, separating to show two narrow bands of satin.

The editorial rooms of the Journal are on the fourth floor, but situated beyond the fire wall, and the staff escaped injury.

The Journal stereotype room on the fifth floor was directly in the path of the explosion and went down in the wreck. A few had miraculous escapes and came staggering from the ruins after the awful shock, scarcely knowing themselves and what had befallen them. Arthur D. Lynch, a Journal stereotype who went down with the wreck from the fifth floor, was pulled from the wreck entirely unconscious. He was under steam-table preparing a matrix. When he fell he was protected by the great iron table and could plainly hear the rescuers at work until they reached him.

George Hackett was found in the ruins in the rear, to which approach was had through the alley. Before he was removed in the ambulance he reported there had been four or five girls on the floor with him. Charles Herbert, a paper employed by John D. Rockefeller & Co., was on the third floor when the explosion occurred. "I felt the crash and was surrounded by flying debris before I could realize what had happened. The vinegar barrels and acid carboys came down on us. I do not know how I got out. I knew I breathed the fresh air after a scramble among the ruins and knew I had escaped. There were four others in the building that I know of, Alexander Campbell, Ann Taylor, in the Leonard and Joseph Vinter. I do not know who got out alive."

From the lists of tenants and employees secured it seems certain that fifty people in all were in the collapsed section. There are still twenty-seven persons unaccounted for and it is reasonable to presume that most of them are among the dead. At every hour reports are received of others who are missing and whose friends are unable to find any trace of them. Two of the injured who are in the hospital will probably recover.

Of the victims of the disaster, it is impossible that any will be rescued alive. Those who were not killed outright have undoubtedly perished either from suffocation or exhaustion. The only hope is that some of those reported missing may be safe with friends. The total death rate will not be known before tomorrow night. It may be even longer before the workmen reach the basement floors of the ill-fated building and the total number of lives lost is known to a certainty.

Carelessness is undoubtedly the cause of the disaster, but where the responsibility rests is a yet problematical. Thomas Thompson, the engineer, was painfully injured. He said he could assign no reason for the explosion. City Engineer McGregor says he inspected the boilers last August, and had found them up to the requirements. Some of the employees in the building assert that the boilers were not in good shape, and that they were at work on this job were buried in the ruins.

The most shocking scene attending the holocaust was a struggle between Coroner Butler and an undertaker in the employ of Gies Bros., against Undertaker Frank Gibbs, who was clinging to the stretcher while the body was being carried out through the crowd. As the spectators were becoming excited the police were ordered to clear the way, and the body was carried out through the crowd.

The total loss of the building is placed at something over $300,000.

A FEARFUL CRISIS IS NOW FACING THE GREAT POWERS.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
LONDON, Nov. 6.—A Vienna dispatch to the Standard says that the Porte has replied to the representations of the powers, and has refused to stop the outrages on Armenians. The powers, however, consider that these measures are inadequate.

The Constantinople correspondent of the Standard says:

"It is reported that decisive European action is imminent. A great demonstration was announced for Friday, but the Sultan, fearing the consequences, notified the Turkish newspapers of his intention to proclaim a constitution, whereupon the demonstration was countermanded. The Sultan then ordered the papers not to publish the announcement and arrests began to be made. Last evening the police raided the Turkish quarter of Sedik Pasha. A dozen dead bodies recovered, a score of persons injured and more than that number missing, with a certainty that many more dead bodies are beneath the ruins, such are the results of an explosion which startled the city today, and totally wrecked about a third of the building at the corner of Larned and Shelby streets, occupied by the Evening Journal and several other tenants."

At 9 o'clock this morning the whole neighborhood was terrified by a fearful shock caused by the explosion of the boilers in the basement of the Journal building. Plate-glass windows across the street and some of those farther away were shattered by the concussion, and several persons were cut by falling glass. At the same instant the five floors and roof of that section of the building crumpled and fell to the basement, carrying with it at least fifty persons, who had not the slightest warning of their danger. The cloud of dust which blinded the eyes of the amazed spectators of the horror was quickly succeeded by smoke from the fires which started in the ruins.

The work of rescue was rushed to the utmost all day and tonight, but progress has been necessarily very slow. The debris of bricks and masonry, an almost solid mass, upon which quantities of water have been poured, and into which comparatively little headway has been made. Some thirty tenants and employees in the building are still missing, and there can be no doubt that most of them are lying dead under the debris.

The wrecked portion of the building, which is owned by the Newberry estate, was separated from the rest of the structure by a fire wall. The first floor of that section was occupied by the John Davis Co., dealers in druggists' specialties, and by the Journal mailing department. The second, third and fourth floors were occupied by the Davis Company, W. W. Dunlap & Co., machinists, and Hillier's book bindery.

HE HAS HIS FLING.

DURRANT WRITES UP HIS LIFE AND TRIAL.

Takes the Churches to Task and Satirizes Some of His Critics.

He Stoutly Protests His Innocence and Intimates that Heaven is His Home.

Kovalev's Sanity Under Investigation—Howell Must Be Tried—A Physician's Suit—The Walk-erly Estate.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Theodore Durrant has written a sketch of his life and ambitions, and has gone into the matter of how it feels to be on trial for murder. He has some flings at the curious people who stare at him; takes the churches to task for what he thinks is their lack of Christianity, and says that his self-possession, nerve and fortitude during the trial were due to the love and comfort given him by his mother. He stoutly proclaims his innocence and satirizes some of his critics.

"But, after all," he says, "this world is only a temporary trial, to prepare us for another and better world. This sentence, consisting of only a few troubled and painful years at best, but there we will enjoy eternal happiness in the company of the angels of God. We have the assurance of the Holy Scriptures that riches and prosperity here are impediments to happiness hereafter. The beggar, Lazarus, is shown to us in the midst of everlasting bliss, while the rich man, Dives, who had supported him for years by the crumbs from his table, and was clothed in purple and fine linen, is represented to us as burning in everlasting hell."

"Another thing we might remember is that it is 'less difficult for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for the rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven'; so we may therefore, I think, rejoice in our difficulties and afflictions, for we are told that those whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth, and therefore we can see that the more wretched we are here upon this earth, and love and trust in our Lord the more we are of the delights of an everlasting heaven."

I gave my testimony on the stand willingly. I gave the whole truth, whether it was for or against me. On the stand I substantiated many points the prosecution endeavored to prove, which were used against me in the argument, which was twisted and turned into all shapes, and which helped to convict me on circumstantial evidence."

HOWELL MUST BE TRIED.

Dist. Atty. Foote Gets His Orders from Washington.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—United States District Attorney Foote today received a telegram from Atty.-Gen. Harmon peremptorily ordering him to proceed with the trial of M. D. Howell, the alleged counterfeit, without further delay. Foote had advised the Attorney-General that as Howell's two previous trials had resulted in disagreements of the juries and as they had no new evidence that the charges against him be dismissed.

Secret Service Agent Harris is much pleased at the decision of the Attorney-General and says that he has much new evidence against Howell that will surely result in a conviction. It is said that his former trials have cost Howell $70,000.

KOVALEV'S SANITY.

The Subject of Investigation Under the Courts of the State.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 6.—At the request of Ivan Kovalev, on trial for the murder of F. H. L. Weber and wife eleven months ago, the court appointed a commission of three doctors to inquire into the sanity of the prisoner. The prisoner's attorneys claimed that he did not seem to understand the surroundings or what was going on about him and had no recollection of the past. The examining physicians reported this afternoon that Kovalev had developed melancholia and a special jury will be summoned to pass upon the question of his sanity.

Drs. Ross, Simmons and Huntington previously examined this afternoon. Kovalev answered intelligently in English the questions put to him by Dr. Huntington. He said he came to the United States three years ago last December, after his escape from the Island Saghalien.

Dr. Huntington found that the prisoner's pulse was 120, and his temperature a little more than 1 deg. above normal. The doctors, after a private consultation of ten minutes, returned to the courtroom and Judge Johnson announced that he felt that there was some doubt as to the prisoner's sanity, and he would, therefore, grant the request of the attorneys for the defense that the case be submitted to a jury to decide the point of sanity.

Dist. Atty. Ryan asked that he might be allowed time in which to subpoena physicians from the insane asylums at Napa and Stockton.

TEEMER LOST THE RACE.

THE ENGLISH CREW WINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

A Terrible Struggle from Start to Finish—the Three-mile Course—The American Collapses Ten Lengths from Home—Other Events.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
AUSTIN (Tex.), Nov. 6.—Threatening weather kept many away from the regatta today, but the 4000 people present witnessed one of the finest races ever rowed over any course. This race was the double-scut, mile-and-a-half, with a turn—three miles in all. The starters were Buebar and Barry, English; Rogers and Teemer, American.

The race was a terrific one from start to finish, and the yellow flag was flying clear to the mile-and-a-half stake. The English crew turned and got away first. The Americans were right after them, however. Down the course to the three-quarter flag a stroke of fifty-five was pulled. At the three-quarter flag they passed the English team and had a boat-length lead down to the half flag, when the Englishmen began to crowd them. The last quarter saw both crews playing the oars with the rapidity of lightning. For this quarter the average stroke was fifty-six, and the water was fairly boiling, so rapidly did the boats skim over the surface.

About ten lengths from the finish Teemer gave out entirely, and Rogers had to pull the boat over the line by himself. The Englishmen were so close on to the Americans when Teemer gave out that they immediately shot past and took the lead, passing over the line four boat lengths in the lead; time 17m. 40s. This lowered the world's record. The fact that the Americans had been favorites in the poolrooms with bets of 3 and 5 to 1 caused many sports to go dead broke tonight, while patriotic Englishmen in attendance won lots of money. This race won the championship of the world for the Englishmen and a purse of $1000.

The next most important event was the triangular three-mile trial race for positions in the championship for the R. K. Fox cup and $1000. The starters were Hanlon, Peterson, Jake Gaudaur, Teemer and Rogers. Gaudaur led from the start, pulling a steady stroke of thirty-eight. From the outset it was evident that Teemer, from some unknown cause, was blown up, and he quit when a mile and a half of the course had been rowed, leaving Gaudaur and Rogers to win by easy strokes in 19m. 41s. This will give Gaudaur and Rogers position in tomorrow's great race against Buebar and Hines.

A TERRIBLE MISTAKE.

A Case of "Out of the Frying-Pan Into the Fire."

Frequent physicking as a cure for a whole catalogue of troubles is the terrible mistake that is minding the health and shortening the lives of thousands every year.

When the eye is lusterless, the complexion yellow or dingy, head aching, the brain dull, the limbs tired and heavy, the spirits depressed and energy at ebb tide, pills and purgatives are employed to violently move the bowels, which, if frequently repeated, leaves the digestive apparatus in a state of complete collapse.

Nature is not a carthorse to be driven with a whip. What is needed is a stimulant and invigorator like Peruvian Bitters. Its use causes the inactive stomach, the torpid liver and bowels to naturally resume their functions. If the system contains any malarial poisons, cold or fever, nothing known to medical science will so effectually drive it out as the world-famous Peruvian Bitters—the most important ingredient of Peruvian Bitters, a faultless, powerful tonic that restores brilliancy to the eye, the glow of health to the face, clearness to the intellect, and keenness of perception to all the senses and faculties.

the church approached many guests drove up, and alighting, got into line in a good-natured way. The crowd began to swell and the police kept the spectators moving, none being permitted to loiter in front of the approaches to the edifice. Little could be seen of the costumes by the outsiders, owing to the closed awnings the entire length of the curbs. The crowd made up for this by surrounding the carriages of the men and women, jostling against each other in their eagerness to see the occupants. The crowd around the Vanderbilt

The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The Board of Health is taking up the question of diseased meat, and acts as if it meant business. The board should be encouraged in well-doing, for healthy meat is quite as essential to the wellbeing of Los Angeles as is pure water, about which such a fuss has been made.

Republican hearts in Southern California beat faster when reading the election returns from the East. The only things to mar the happy record are the claw marks of the miserable Tammany tiger, which were made possible only by the differences of opinion among those desiring good government.

The penny has come to stay. California has been slow in adopting any lesser coin than the lordly nickel, but a discriminating thief in Santa Barbara yesterday thought twenty pennies a good haul. That settles it, and a prompt boom in the little copper nuisances may be expected, protesting car conductors to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Button jury, down in San Bernardino county, has again failed to agree, and Button will receive a fourth trial. It seems to be a veritable case of "Button, button, who's got the button?" If this sort of thing goes on much longer, the prison officials can say: "Not I," to the question asked by the community.

San Diego seems to have a hard time of it with her public officials. The County Assessor, one of the most important functionaries of the Silver Gate region, is openly charged with gross neglect in the failure to secure special taxes on the assessed valuation of a million dollars worth of property. This amount is one-twenty-third of the assessed valuation of the entire county.

The janitors at the Courthouse are going about with smiles a yard wide, at the prospect of being able today to bid farewell to the visitors from Antelope Valley. These cow-gentlemen seem to have contracted from their stock the habit of chewing a cud, and, unfortunately for others, they have added to it another habit of which the most unprincipled steer is innocent, habit which has cost the unlucky janitors much anguish of mind and more "elbow grease."

Following are the dates on which snow has appeared on Mt. San Antonio (Old Baldy) for the past nine years: 1886, October 10; 1887, October 10; 1888, October 17; 1889, October 13; 1890, October 10; 1891, November 19; 1892, November 25; 1893, October 22; 1894, September 30; 1895, November 3. These dates practically mark the beginning of fall rains. For three years the first rain has fallen on Saturday night. The latest that snow has ever appeared on the mountains was on November 25, 1892.

The Southern Pacific trainmen, lying over night in Pasadena, complain that they were charged 75 cents each at a certain hotel in that city, for a meal consisting of one baked potato, a small, but not choice piece of steak and a cup of coffee, with three biscuits divided among five. The reason given for the exorbitant rate was the lateness of the hour. It was between 8 and 9 o'clock. The foregoing fling at Pasadena hospitality is made by a correspondent from a rival Southern California town. The moral is that trainmen should dine earlier when in Pasadena.

Police Court Victims.
Police Judge Owens dispensed justice to only a moderate-sized number of offenders yesterday. Desery Robinette was fined $15 for jumping on Southern Pacific cars. J. W. Bell, C. E. Murray and William Bates were fined for disturbing the peace; Bell had to pay $10 and the other two $5 each. George Green, for begging, got thirty days. Dan Donahue, for vagrancy, got ten days, and Ah Sing, a Chinese vagrant, got ten days. Ed Whaling, who had been given a chance to leave town, neglected the opportunity and will have to serve out a fifteen-day sentence hanging over him. "Bug" Holliday, who was found guilty of being drunk, failed to appear and his $5 bail deposit was applied as fine.

No Inquest Necessary.
An autopsy in the case of Mrs. Mary A. Evans was held yesterday at Orr & Hines's undertaking rooms. The only unusual feature of the case was the extremely swollen condition of the body. The coroner decided it was not necessary to hold an inquest, and the death certificate was signed by Drs. W. C. Parker, F. J. Kruehl and George L. Cole. They found that death resulted from apoplexy fever.

Four Indictments.
The United States grand jury returned four indictments in the United States District Court yesterday. Bond in each case was fixed at $500.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

"WASH" COVARRUBIAS ARRESTED FOR SEDUCTION.

Mamie Lemon, the Complaining Witness, Alleges that He on Tuesday Night Robbed Her of Her Honor.
She Intended to Shoot Him, but Was Dissuaded.

"Wash" Covarrubias was arrested by Officer Richardson on a warrant yesterday afternoon, the charge against him being seduction, and the complaining witness being Mamie Lemon, who lives near Echo Park.

Miss Lemon is 18 years old, and, although not remarkably handsome, is tall and well built. Her father is dead and she lives with her mother and younger sister. She does not appear to be familiar with the ways of the world, and is regarded as somewhat unsophisticated.

According to her statement, she did not know "Wash" Covarrubias until three or four days ago. He was employed at the livery stable of his brother, United States Marshal Covarrubias, on the east side of South Los Angeles street, a little south of Second street. She went to the stable in company with a woman whose husband works there, and the defendant asked to be introduced to her. He was presented, and after but a short acquaintance he proposed that they live together. She was inclined not to consider the proposition seriously, and after further conversation they separated.

They met again by appointment Tuesday, and he again proposed their living together. He showed her a check for $100, she alleges, which he promised she should have if she would marry him. They were out together during the evening, and when it came time for them to separate he said there was no need for her to go home, as she could remain over night in his room and he would get another place to stay.

Not suspecting that he had any designs upon her, she says, she went with him to his room. He went away, but it was only a short time before he returned, and, locking the door after him, compelled her, she alleges, to remain with him during the night and to submit to his advances. She says she once made an outcry, but he told her to keep silent. She cried a great deal during the night, but silently, as she was afraid to cry out so she would be heard.

Yesterday morning he left her and she made her escape. Later in the day she went to the stable and inquired for him, but was told he was not there. Seeing him hiding behind a carriage she approached him and asked him to marry her as she claimed he had promised to do. He refused to comply with her request.

She left and went direct to Morris's pawnshop, where she called for a revolver. She had no money to pay for it, but thought she could pawn her watch for it. A revolver was selected, and she asked to have cartridges put in it, her purpose being to shoot the man who had wronged her, and perhaps herself.

At this juncture she began to cry, and the shopkeeper becoming suspicious that she contemplated suicide, made some inquiry, which resulted in her confiding the story to him. She was advised to report the matter to the police, which she did. She was referred to Deputy District Attorney James, to whom she recited her story, and he thereupon issued a complaint against Covarrubias, charging him with seduction, which complaint was filed in the Police Court before Police Judge Morrison, and a warrant for the arrest of the defendant promptly issued.

The young woman could not bear the thought of going home alone, and so Officer Fowler was detailed to accompany her. She felt that she could not tell her mother of what had occurred, and so the sad duty fell upon the officer. The mother was overwhelmed with grief as the story of the alleged outrage was related to her.

Shortly after the issuance of the warrant Covarrubias was arrested by Officer Richardson at the livery stable where he was employed. He made no statement as to the charge against him.

BAUER BOUNCED.
The Dive-keeper Ejected from the Police Court.

The trial of the case of Ed Kerren, charged with vagrancy, was held yesterday afternoon in the Police Court before Justice Morrison.

Officer Matuzskiewicz, the complaining witness, told how he saw the defendant out at late hours of the night about the "cribs" on Alameda street, and had seen him going with a woman known as Marguerite from the "crib" which she occupied to her room. This was at early hours of the morning.

J. Marian Brooks, attorney for the defendant, resorted to his usual tactics of asking all sorts of questions intended to excite the witness and provoke the mirth of court and spectators. In this he succeeded.

Deputy District Attorney James asked if the defendant, just after his arrest, offered to pay the officer money to turn him loose. This question was objected to and the objection was sustained.

One or two other witnesses were examined and then Theodore Bauer was called. His testimony was awaited with the good deal of interest, as it was thought he might testify in reference to the statement of the officer that he (Bauer) offered money to have the prosecution abandoned.

Bauer stepped up to the clerk's desk and Justice Morrison started to administer the oath. Scarcely had the first words of the oath been repeated by the court when Bauer became so noisy that the voice of the Justice could not be heard. The court made another start to repeat the oath, and meantime the voice of Bauer rose louder, if anything, than before. After the oath was administered Bauer remained standing instead of taking the chair on the witness stand. Mr. James called to the witness to sit down, but he did not heed the invitation. He commenced in a voice louder than before to tell his side of the case. Although he spoke loudly enough to be heard across the street, he jumbled his words so that he could scarcely be understood. He said something about the officer coming to him and soliciting money instead of being offered money. Meantime Bauer was swinging his arms and was apparently trying to make clear by gestures what he seemed incapable of expressing orally.

Cries of "sit down" from Mr. James and the court were repeated, but they were unheeded by Bauer, who persisted in trying to tell in his own way what he knew about the case. Seeing that he was in no condition to be examined as a witness, Officer Phillips was ordered to remove the notorious dive-keeper from the courtroom.

As the officer took Bauer by the arm the latter made a parting remark about having told the "truth" and accompanied the officer outside without resistance.

The trial, which had thus been interrupted, being resumed, the evidence was heard and the case was taken under advisement.

After the death of her first husband she married Dr. Brown, and upon his death, after several years of widowhood, she married J. C. McCullum, who had been her leading man for many years. Since his death ten years ago she has lived a retired life.

SQUAW MEN MULCTED.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
ARDMORE (I. T.) Nov. 6.—The Chickasaw Legislature, which has just adjourned, passed a bill barring all intermarried citizens from any proprietary rights in the Chickasaw Nation whatever. The bill not only disfranchises all intermarried citizens but takes away their rights, heretofore unquestioned, of holding lands in the nation, or participating in annuity moneys and funds held by the United States government in trust for the Indians.
More than half the property in the Chickasaw Nation is owned by intermarried citizens or "squaw men," as they are called, and if the new law stands as constitutional, millions of dollars' worth of property held by the intermarried citizens will be confiscated.

NEW YORK'S FIRE.

The Walls of the Broadway-Bleecker Street Ruin Fall.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Early this morning there was left standing of the big building at the southeast corner of Broadway and Bleecker street only one triangular wall. Crowds watched it, expecting to see it crash down into the street. Firemen kept up work on the ruins until 7 o'clock, then the wall swayed and started to fall. The Bleecker street side fell with a crash. Bricks, debris and long iron girders were sent flying across the street and the windows of the Manhattan Bank building were crushed in. A few seconds later, the wall facing Broadway also swayed and then fell. In falling it sent a mass of brick clear across Broadway. It is estimated that the damage by fire will be fully $750,000. How the fire started is not known.

Mrs. Symington-Houbert Sues for a Divorce from Her Russian Count.

Bids for the New City Jail Commissioned by the City Council.

Firemen Called to Account—Board of Health Discusses the Sale of Diseased Meat—Union Slaughterhouse Suggested.

The crowd in the corridor at the Courthouse yesterday was a trifle diminished, as the Antelope Valley cattle-stealing case is drawing to a close. The other department was quiet, no particularly exciting case is on trial. Mrs. Houbert has begun suit against the "count" for a divorce on the ground of cruelty. Mrs. Shipton was found yesterday and subpoenaed as a witness for the prosecution in the Mayne case.

The Building Committee of the Council yesterday took action in the matter of the City Jail bids, recommending that the proposal of Contractor Rebmam to construct the building and equip it with twenty-four cells for $80,000 be accepted. The Board of Health, at its meeting yesterday, adopted a resolution giving it as the sense of the board that a union slaughterhouse be constructed, where the meat prepared by butchers for sale can be examined by a competent inspector.

AT THE CITY HALL.

CITY COUNCIL.

A Compromise Is Made of the City Jail Bids.

The committee room of the Council was filled yesterday afternoon, when Chairman Blanchard called the Building Committee to order and announced that a decision must be arrived at. In the matter of accepting or rejecting the bids for the construction of the new City Jail.

Superintendent of Buildings Strang was present, with his roll of plans and specifications, prepared to explain to the Councilmen how and why the building cannot be constructed for any such amount as the appropriation that was made for the purpose.

Contractor Rebmam was also there, waiting, as an interested party, to see the disposition that might be made of his bid, which was conceded to be the lowest presented.

Before any discussion of the subject was commenced, President Teed, of the Council, suggested that the bid of Mr. Rebmam be read and examined in detail. This proved to be a very wise and timely action, as before the reading was finished, the Councilmen discovered that the bid was a unique document in several very important respects, and resembled the contrivance described in Scripture as "a wheel within a wheel."

Mr. Rebmam offered in his bid to build the jail and equip it with the furnishings required for $99,000; or to build the jail without the cells—forty-eight in number—for $75,000; or to build the jail and provide twenty-four cells, for $80,000. In brief the proposal was to charge the city about $25,000 for forty-eight cells and $75,000 for the twenty-four cells. When this little circumstance was pointed out by President Teed the Councilman immediately turned to the contractor for an explanation. But that gentleman only mumbled something about "a mistake," and asked for a few minutes' time, in which he might retire and consider whether or not he would "stand up to the rack" if obliged to by the Councilmen, on his $99,000 bid.

In his absence the members of the City Council who were present exchanged views on the subject, all agreeing that to put off various essential portions of the building in order to lessen the expense of its construction would be very poor policy and not to be thought of at all. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that, to accept the bid of Contractor Rebmam, where he proposed to construct the jail and equip it with twenty-four cells for $80,000, was the proper proceeding.

Accordingly, when the contractor returned and announced his willingness to stand by his proposal, a motion was made at once accepting the bid, the following recommendation in the matter being prepared by the committee for presentation to the Council today:

"Your Building Committee beg leave to recommend that the bid of Contractor Rebmam to furnish all labor and material necessary for the full and proper completion of the new Central Police Station according to the plans, specifications and details furnished by the City Superintendent of Buildings, including all iron window guards, all iron doors and iron corridors and all work mentioned in all bidders' specifications and required by plans, including twenty-four iron cells and corridors on two tiers as specified and shown on first-floor plan, for the sum of $80,000, be accepted and the City Attorney instructed to prepare and present the necessary contract and bond."

The Council will meet this morning to receive and act upon this report, and the work of construction will begin at once. The fact that there is $22,000 difference between the appropriation and the accepted bid does not seem to worry the Councilmen greatly. It is claimed that funds can be transferred for this purpose from other municipal funds, whenever the month, and this is doubtless the method by which the building will be paid for.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

Derelict Firemen Called to Account for Their Actions.

Chief Moore presented his weekly report to the Board of Fire Commissioners yesterday. In which Capt. Rowan of chemical engine No. 1 charges J. P. Jacobs, a permanent fireman of that company, with a failure to do his duty in compliance with rule 25, of the department regulations, which provides that the permanent fireman connected with a chemical or hose company shall be steward of the house and shall keep the apparatus clean and serviceable and the house neat and clean.

The commissioner appeared to fancy that there was something beneath the surface in this complaint, and appointed a committee consisting of Commissioners Bots, Yett and Grider to investigate the matter.

The chief also reported that on the 24 inst., the hook and ladder truck No. 1, driven by P. P. Wiloughby and T. Horne, collided with a cable car at the intersection of First and Main streets.

The chief was instructed by the board to caution the men against speedy driving while crossing the intersections of streets.

In another section of his report the chief informed the commission that, upon the advice of the City Attorney, he had instructed the engine companies in East Los Angeles to respond to fire alarms in the recently annexed Highland Park district, and that he will immediately make provision for the erection of fire alarm boxes and wires in this district.

In the matter of the board bid presented by Mrs. Morrison against S. B. Hall, a member of the department, the chief reported that the debt was contracted before Mr. Hall became a member of the department. The report was filed.

The petition of A. Hance to operate a blacksmith shop on lot 143 of the Alexander Well tract was referred to the chief.

The promotions of Callmen J. F. Hay, J. D. Lawton, and J. J. Lee to permanent positions were confirmed by the commission yesterday.

The clerk was instructed to request of the Building Superintendent that no permits for buildings be issued unless the ordinances providing for fire escapes and stand pipes are complied with.

Application for the position of callman were received from L. E. Stout and W. L. Scherer. The usual demands were approved and the commission adjourned.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Medicine Discussed the Question of Diseased Meat.

Diseased meat and the evils resulting from its sale and consumption were the main topics of discussion before the Board of Health yesterday. It was the regular meeting of the board, and Dr. Kurtz was the only member absent.

A butcher, a grievance appeared before the board, saying that an item in The Times to the effect that a prominent meat dealer on Spring street was selling diseased meat had been construed by some to refer to his establishment. Mr. Maier—for it was he—protested that his meat was first-class, and offered to pay for the services of an inspector who would examine the meat and testify to its healthfulness. He was assured by the board that he was not the butcher referred to in the charge, that gentleman being engaged in business on South Spring street, whereas Mr. Maier is located on North Spring.

With this for an introduction, the board took up the matter of diseased meat, discussed at length. A resolution was finally adopted declaring it to be the sense of the board that a union slaughterhouse be constructed where the meat prepared by butchers for sale can be examined by a competent inspector was discussed, but no action was taken in the matter.

Dr. Steddom invited the board to make a tour of the City Hall and inspect the plumbing of the same, but his invitation was not accepted. The board adjourned without having accomplished more than the adoption of the resolution referred to.

City Hall Notes.

The Board of Public Works will meet this morning to consider the bids for the construction of the new City Jail. The board adjourned without having accomplished more than the adoption of the resolution referred to.

A second meeting of the Botanical Society, composed of gentlemen interested in tropical vegetation, will be held this afternoon in the office of the Mayor.

The manager of the Free Labor Bureau has reported to the Council that during the week ending November 2, there were 418 applicants for positions, eighty-nine of which were supplied with work.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

THE COURTS.

Trial of Mace Mayes Drawing to a Close.

Mace Mayes' trial has reached the arguments and will go to the jury today. All yesterday afternoon Department 12 rang with the sound of voices and was crowded to the doors by Lancasters interested in the case.

So far the red robs seem exceedingly likely to go under. Perjury after perjury has been nailed, and yesterday and day before several witnesses went about with faces clouded with anxiety and showed a keen and wholesome desire to be recalled to the stand, in order that they might rectify any little mistake that might have crept into their testimony.

At about 11 a.m. Horace Lawn was brought up from the jail and placed upon the stand. He told the whole story of his false testimony, and how he was persuaded by his brother-in-law, Dick Vanderkarr, to swear George Vanderkarr out of trouble.

Lawn said he at first protested against swearing falsely and begged not to be mixed up in the case, of which he knew nothing. But Vanderkarr insisted, and coached both his wife and Lawn as to the story they were to tell. Vanderkarr kept Lawn with him pretty closely and had him thoroughly coached in the story he was to tell.

In cross-examination, Mr. Williams followed almost every hour of the boy's stay in Los Angeles, and sifted the matter most thoroughly, but Lawn insisted that neither Mayes nor his attorneys had had anything to do with his testimony, which was given at the instance of Dick Vanderkarr alone, although he owned to a conference at Mr. Ryan's office, at which Mayes was present.

After Lawn had substantiated his statement to the District Attorney in nearly all its details, Mr. Ryan rose and requested that Mrs. Vanderkarr's testimony be stricken out, as it was utterly repudiated by the defense. Mr. Williams insisted on its remaining as a matter of record and a peppy little war of words ensued between the two attorneys, who were with difficulty quenched by the court.

SERVING THE SUBPOENA.

Mrs. Shipton Located and Cited to Appear.

Mrs. Clara Shipton, the mother of the two little Shipton girls debauched by Clifton E. Mayne, was yesterday located by a witness for the prosecution by Con Mallory, deputy sheriff for the District Attorney's office.

Mrs. Shipton has been hard to find. At no time before her deposition, and her consequent liberation from the County Jail, she disappeared from the ken of the District Attorney's office, and constables have scoured the city in vain.

All inquiries at the house of W. J. Murphy, Mayne's attorney, failed to bring forth any information as to Mrs. Shipton's whereabouts, and the earth might have swallowed her up for aught that could be ascertained.

Mr. Mallory, though, had a theory of his own in the matter, and yesterday he sallied forth to put it into practice. He wandered down to Mr. Murphy's abode, rang the door-bell, and asked for Mrs. Murphy. When that lady appeared, Mr. Mallory was standing in the hall, looking as though his chief effort in life was to grasp the fraction of an idea left him by some remote ancestor. He pulled a letter out of his pocket, and Mrs. Murphy saw that it was addressed to Mrs. Clara Shipton.

In tones that were childlike and bland, Mr. Mallory announced that he was commissioned to hand this letter, which related to an important business matter, to Mrs. Shipton in person.

Mrs. Murphy hesitated, and scanned the harmless-looking individual before her with a searching look, but "the lamb looked meek," and Mrs. Murphy's vague suspicion vanished into thin air. Mrs. Shipton was called into the room, and a lighted palanquin came over the innocent messenger. With official dignity cooing out at the seams of his coat, Mr. Mallory dived into his pocketbook for the subpoena which he kindly read aloud, while the astonished and angry women displayed faces that were a study in scarlet. When he had quite finished reading, the officer handed the letter, which contained a printed section of the Penal Code, referring to the unpleasant consequences which were likely to follow a failure to attend the summons, to Mrs. Shipton, and bowed himself out.

Mrs. Shipton will probably appear at the trial as a witness on behalf of the prosecution.

Mrs. Houbert Sues for Divorce.

Mrs. Addie J. Houbert, formerly Symington, has evidently tired of her Russian count and his mysterious powers, for she filed yesterday a suit for divorce, which shows very clearly that the charm is broken. Mrs. Houbert is not a woman of the public who has attended the weird performances of her hypnotic husband, and she alleges that he has exerted his occult power upon her in a manner most uncomfortable.

When hypnotism failed to reduce Mrs. Houbert to meekness and submission, the doctor tried the effect of threats to take his own life. Under the circumstances, the carrying out of these threats might not have been an untried evil, but Mrs. Houbert evinced no keenness to be spattered with the doctor's blood, and preferred to renounce her rank as the Russian hypnotist to enormous wealth have seemingly turned out to be constructed of the airy fabric of which dreams are made, and his unlucky wife had the prosaic task of standing off his mad and unbalanced schemes.

Mrs. Houbert has petitioned to be allowed to resume the name of Symington and proposes to mulct the count of $100 a month alimony and a fee of counsel fee. The demand for alimony is based on the count's claims to great wealth, although she has no doubt that he has little faith in his pretensions, she wishes to be on the safe side in the event of his ever accumulating any property.

Board of Supervisors.

Herman de Laguna appeared before the board yesterday to obtain his franchise for erecting telegraph and telephone lines along the public highways in this county, but withdrew his application upon learning that the decision of the board made it obligatory for him to commence work within a year.

Upon motion of Supervisor Hay the bid of M. Herman offering $1500 for the Compton city school district bonds, was accepted. This offer covers the face value of the bonds and $50 premium.

Upon motion of Supervisor Hay the ordinance granting to T. S. C. Lowe the special privilege to conduct an electric railway, and to John A. Pirtle the right to construct a pipe-line, were both declared to be in effect.

Upon motion of Supervisor Hanley the time for completion of the Calabasas bridge was extended to November 25.

Maria Yet Lives.

Jose Maldonado was brought before the bar of Justice yesterday to answer for having assaulted his wife, Maria, with a knife. Maria was put upon the stand, and poured forth her tale of woe. It appeared that Jose, desiring it necessary to give Maria a little gentle correction, had taken a firm grip of the neck of her dress, and had brandished aloft the gleaming knife, vowing to bury it in her vitals.

Maria's vitals appeared to be still intact, and upon close questioning by the District Attorney, she confessed that Jose, like the far-famed King of France, "had merely" drawn his sword, and—put it up again.

As this hardly constituted a cause for action, the case was dismissed.

Another Weak-kneed Indictment.

M. Duffy was brought before Judge Smith yesterday for arraignment on the charge of perjury, for which he was indicted by the grand jury some weeks ago. T. E. Gibbon, his attorney, moved to set aside the indictment on the ground that the original complaint upon which the charge of perjury was based was worthless.

Duffy had charged two gentlemen $4 for boot-chairs and had refused to pay the extortionate price, the bootman had them arrested. The whole thing was a plan to extort money from the customer to which Duffy swore would not hold water.

Judge Smith indulged in some caustic criticisms of the action taken by the grand jury in finding an indictment on such slight grounds, and gave a gentle hint to the original complainant, the county vebmgericht had better confine itself to looking after the conduct of the county officers, and leave criminal matters to the District Attorney's office.

The motion to set aside the indictment was continued until today.

No New Trials as Yet.

Judge Smith has again continued the hearing of the motions for new trial in the cases of E. B. Kennett and Frank Roemer. The motion in behalf of Kennett was partly heard yesterday, and both cases will be decided on November 13.

Court Notes.

Judge Van Dyke yesterday overruled the demurrer to the second amended and supplementary complaint in the case of the Little Rock Creek Irrigation District vs. the East Palmdale Water Company.

The libel suit of Banbury vs. Ayers & Lynn has been stricken from the calendar.

G. G. Green yesterday obtained a decree from Judge Shaw, quieting title to property, against the claims of L. D. McLain et al.

Mrs. Idaho Rice yesterday obtained a divorce from E. Adam Rice, Judge Clark granting the decree.

The case of R. S. McDougall vs. W. J. Haughawatt, a suit to recover $5000 damages for injuries sustained by McDougall through falling into an unguarded sewer in process of construction on Washington street, was on trial yesterday before Judge York.

The motion for a non-suit was argued and granted.

George Jervis, who pleaded guilty to an infamous crime, came before Judge Smith yesterday for sentence. As the crime to which he pleaded guilty was not covered by the statute, the plea was set aside, and the case placed on the call calendar to be set for trial.

F. E. Lowry, indicted by the grand jury for embezzlement, was arraigned yesterday in Department One. A demurrer to the indictment was filed and presented, and the case was continued until November 11.

Ramon Ybarra was to have been arraigned yesterday before Judge Smith on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, but the case was continued until November 7.

The arraignment of S. A. Garrett, indicted by the grand jury for the charge of rape upon his fourteen-year-old daughter, and pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced today.

Tom Andrews was arraigned before Judge Smith on the charge of petty larceny with prior conviction. He will be sentenced on November 8.

NEWS OF CYCLING.

FOR ROAD RIDING THE BEST TIME OF YEAR IS HERE.

Union Runs Among the Clubs and Three L.A.W. Meets a Year.

Next Year's Wheels are Being Shown by the Cycling Missionaries.

The East Side Cycling Club Smoker. Annual Team Race for East Side Cup—Why not Have a Relay Race to Pomona and Back?

This is the best time of the year for cycling.

The rain has helped the country roads considerably and next Sunday there will no doubt be hundreds of wheelmen and wheelwomen out on the country roads. There is Santa Monica for an eighteen-mile run, San Gabriel for a nine-mile jaunt, and the Chahuenga for an equal distance. Or, if only a short run is desirable, East Side Park is a delightful destination.

For the road fiend, Santa Ana or Riverside is only just far enough away to be inviting. The run to Whittier or Pomona or Pasadena or Monrovia will do for a large party with an early start and an easy gait. And there is the satisfaction that trains return from each of these points if one does not want to ride back by wheel.

In club runs the Roamers head the list, East Side Cycling Club is next and the Times Bicycle Club third, while the Times Club has had the best attendance. The East Sides have had several big runs and the Los Angeles Road Club has also made a good showing. The Los Angeles Wheelmen have had but one regular run this season. The Riversides have had more runs than any other club in Southern California, with the exception of the Roamers' Road Club. The Pasadena Club is next to Riverside among the outside organizations. San Diego Wheelmen had quite a number of runs early in the season, and the Redlands Cycling Club has also made a good showing, possibly coming next to Riverside in number of runs for the whole year. The Orange County Wheelmen of Santa Ana, with many other clubs, ran against the scorching smog and so failed to make club runs popular.

The Associated Cycling Clubs' Inter-club Relations Committee will probably arrange some union runs, like the one at Pomona in August, that will build up club-run competition among the bicycle clubs and do much to further the cause of road riding. Union runs in Northern California have been the cause of forming several road-riding clubs, and there have been a number of these union runs made annual affairs. The plan is a good one and should be more successful down below the Tehachapi than up around San Francisco Bay.

At present the Orange County Wheelmen owe the Roamers a visit, and the Crown City Cycling Club owes a visit to the Citrus Wheelmen. The club at Santa Monica should also call on the clubs of this city. The East Sides invited the Roamers to run to Whittier with them last Sunday, but the rain made the run impossible, although the Riversides visited the Redlands Cycling Club, getting into the smog and miles of horrible highway in spite of the rain.

All the outside clubs should ride into Los Angeles occasionally and visit the clubs here. The Citrus Wheelmen, the East Siders, the Roamers and the Los Angeles Road Club all have clubhouses, and the Los Angeles Wheelmen should extend the courtesies of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and all the clubs would co-operate to make these visits of a Sunday interesting to Pasadena, Riverside, Santa Ana, Redlands, Pomona, San Bernardino, Santa Monica, Duarte, Ontario and even Santa Barbara and San Diego. The Inter-Club Relations Committee of the A.C.C. should include the secretary or some other enthusiastic member of each of these clubs. By giving the city clubs a few days' notice, an occasion of this kind would be a grand success.

It is hoped that the coming National Circuit meet here on November 31, 22 and 23 will bring many outside wheelmen in by wheel, and this plan can then be tried.

The League of American Wheelmen is the largest athletic association in the world, and where the work is properly carried out the L.A.W. has accomplished great good. Here in California, 3000 miles from the strongholds of the league, the work has been neglected, and so, though there are two divisions of the L.A.W. in California, both together do not amount to as much as the Wisconsin division, or that of any of the following states: Connecticut, Illinois, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania. Of course there are many reasons for this, but the strongest reason is because hard work, which is necessary on the part of the division officers, has been avoided. But the future of the league is bright, and both of the California divisions have begun a hustle. Up north the L.A.W. members have been making excellent improvement the past year, and down here the exciting election that is about to be held shows that the coming year will be a record-breaker for the Southern California division, whoever gets elected. At present it looks as though C. C. McAllister of the Santa Ana club was sure of election to the office of chief consul, for his friends have done some good work for him, and with the solid vote of Orange County with a good following in this city and San Diego, he should win. But if defeated he will be just as good a worker.

The annual meets of the Eastern L.A.W. divisions are the means of bringing in many new members and in other ways strengthening the membership divisions. In the Massachusetts division and some of the others there are three meets each year, one in the spring, another in the summer and a third in the fall. At these meets there are usually races, but not necessarily. The most important feature of these meets are runs, road races and sight-seeing. In fact, the social element predominates.

Here in Southern California, of all divisions of the great League of American Wheelmen, there should be three meets a year, and everything is in favor of such an innovation. The dates for 1896 might be January 1 and 2 at Pasadena, May 1 at Santa Ana, and September 9 at Riverside. This would divide the year equally and would give Riverside and Pasadena a chance to combine the meet with its regular annual meet on a State holiday and those towns could thus add a day to their usual programme, especially for the L.A.W. May day or Labor day, coming late in the spring, is an excellent date for a mid-year meet, and would probably make a good day for Santa Ana to establish an annual meet and not interfere with the annual meet in Los Angeles on May 30, or a mid-summer meet could be held in Los Angeles on July 4 or even on May 30.

With three meets a year in this division of the league, the L.A.W. would be kept constantly before the wheelmen and there would be a rivalry among the towns to see who would get the meets and who could best entertain the visitors. Then there could be half a dozen division championships distributed among the three meets and "member of the L.A.W." would mean something.

Pomona will be able to run circuit meets on the dates chosen. Redlands and Pasadena have not completed their tracks yet, but expect to have them done in a few days.

Pomona has been delayed on its track project unavoidably, and so will probably take more time and change its date from December 6 to a month later. Santa Monica will probably take the date that Pomona has given up.

Santa Ana will have a very fine two-day meet this time, as more pains have been taken in preparation than for its late track opening.

A forerunner of next year's business in bicycles, is the arrival of well-known representatives of the big bicycle houses. Ed Bode of Chicago was in San Francisco this week and is said to have made $10,000 in commissions on his trip to the Coast for a new wheel, his only sample being a sprocket-hanger.

Fred Chandler of San Francisco was in the city yesterday with 1886 models of the Small Special, and, after taking in the East Side smoker last night, went on south to San Diego.

W. H. Seaver, Sr., father of Capt. Seaver of the Oakland Y.M.C.A. Cycling Club, dropped into town yesterday to talk cyclometers and guns. He said Capt. Seaver would be down with 1886 models soon.

J. G. French has returned from the North, and will now stay with the wheelmen in this end of the State until New Year's day.

There was a probability of San Diego joining the National Circuit, as the Colorado track is the fastest oval in this end of the State, but, as money has been lost on most of the San Diego meets this year, no one down there seems to desire to lose more.

The annual team race for the valuable East Side Cycling Club trophy has not been held this year, and a number of the clubs are inquiring anxiously about it. When it was last run it was a class-B event, but now all the clubs seem to prefer a class-A contest, which can be allowed if a special permit is gotten from the National Racing Board.

The East Siders, the Roamers and the Riversides could put in class-B teams but the Crown City, the Santa Ana and the Redlands clubs would also like to ride for the cup. Why not put the cup up as a trophy for a sixty-mile relay race in ten-mile relays? The course could be from Los Angeles to Pomona and back, passing through Pasadena, Duarte, Azusa, San Dimas, Lordsburg, Ontario, Chino, Pomona, Spadra, Puente, El Monte, San Gabriel and Alhambra. The first relay could start from East Lake Park and finish in Pasadena, the second would then end at Monrovia or Duarte, and the other points might be Spadra, Ontario, etc.

The National Circuit meet at San Jose tomorrow and Saturday will probably be one of the greatest meets ever held in the West. All the famous riders of that part of the State but Ziegler will meet the world's best riders, who have just arrived from the East.

Next week the Eastern crackjacks will arrive in this city from San Jose and begin to familiarize themselves with the tracks in this end of the State before the circuit meets.

"Sport" McAllister has nearly recovered from his terrible fall, and will be seen in all his glory at the circuit meets.

Tom F. Foree, treasurer of the Roamers' Club, leaves today for Riverside, where he will accept a position. His fellow club members hope to see him back in the city again early in the year.

Last evening the East Side Cycling Club held a smoker in honor of its racing team, at its "clubhouse," No. 143 Chestnut street. There was a long programme of musical numbers, humorous speeches, etc. Light refreshments were served. The cozy little East Side clubhouse was crowded all the evening. Through the clouds of smoke could be seen many new features and decorations about the club home.

Canby Hewett of the Crown City Cycling Club, Pasadena, is still in class A, although local papers have said that he had been put in class B.

(Santa Cruz Record.) Cleveland was very careful not to offend the unscrupulous Georgia crackers by dwelling upon the harmonizing effect of the Atlanta Exposition.

An Injustice.

Through an oversight last week we omitted the name of Mr. A. M. Imelli, of Schroder Bros., from the list of those whose designs came near winning second prize. Mr. Imelli submitted a number of very fine designs. Had there been a prize for the best average collection, Mr. Imelli would probably have won it. We apologize to Mr. Imelli.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

An Effort to be Made to Secure the Palmer Antiquities.

The meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon was taken up almost entirely with consideration of the proposed purchase of the Palmer collection of Indian antiquities, which, unless some action is taken by the citizens of Los Angeles, is likely to be disposed of by its owner in San Francisco or the East. It was the unanimous opinion of the members of the Board that it would be a great pity for the collection, which is probably the last complete gathering of Indian antiquities that can possibly be made in this section, to leave the city. After considerable discussion, it was decided to make an effort to raise the necessary funds to keep the collection in Los Angeles. Messrs. J. S. Slauson, E. F. C. Klokke, O. T. Johnson, W. B. Cline and C. F. Lummis were appointed a committee on ways and means to that end.

The following exhibits were received at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday: Pommeroy and Mission olives from R. M. Pogson, Tejon Ranch, Kern county; raisins from the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, and snow peaches from the Aloha Hotel, Glendora.

The Thomas Trial.

The trial of W. F. Thomas, who, together with Mrs. Stebbins, is charged with obtaining money on a draft inclosed in a letter intended for some one else, was commenced yesterday in the United States District Court. The evidence for the prosecution was concluded, and the defense will have its turn today.

For Horse-stealing.

Robert Connor, who was arrested Tuesday night by Deputy Constable Mugnemi for grand larceny, is charged with stealing a horse belonging to a man named Steele, who keeps a store at Sixth and Spring streets. The horse was stolen Tuesday morning, and the deputy located Connor in a shanty on Santa Fe avenue later in the day.

ALL SPILLED OUT.

A Baby, Its Mother and Grandmother Injured.

A young horse attached to a canopy spring-wagon ran away on Twelfth street yesterday afternoon. In front of H. W. O'Melveny's residence, at the corner of Twelfth and Pearl streets, the vehicle was upset and Mrs. Dennis Martin, her fourteen-months-old baby and her mother, Mrs. Alice McIntire, were thrown violently to the ground. The wagon was badly wrecked, the horse kicked himself out of his harness and was scratched slightly. Mrs. Martin's right ankle was dislocated and her face was somewhat bruised. Mrs. McIntire's knees were bruised and her right thumb sprained. The baby miraculously escaped with a few scratches.

Revival Meetings.

Evangelist Johnson and wife will be at the Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church every evening this week. The sermon Tuesday evening was on "The Return of the Prodigal." The revival meetings at the First Christian Church continue to attract large audiences. Last evening Evangelist Romig preached upon "Weighed and Found Wanting." This evening he will discourse on "The Social Evil." Prof. Jeffery's singing adds greatly to the interest of the meetings.

Pacific Gospel Union.

The president of the national union mission work, Maj. George A. Hilton, is holding special meetings at the Pacific Gospel Union, on East Second and Fourth streets. Large audiences are in nightly attendance and much interest is manifested. A chain of missions is being organized for all of the large cities of the United States, the object being to lend a helping hand to all in need. The last month 337 have been helped and thirty-four have confessed conversion.

James C. Clayton, who was arrested Tuesday morning for buncing a man by means of a shell game, it appears, has been in the business before. Constable Harry Johnston has identified him as having been fined $250 for a similar offense four years ago.

WHEN DEBS IS FREE.

Then the Great Northern Must Hunt (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A local paper says:

"When Debs gets out of jail it will be decided whether there shall be a strike on the Great Northern Railroad. According to the labor leaders of the city, it all depends on Debs. They said they did not expect any strike to be ordered immediately unless the Great Northern men went out, and so far as they were advised, no action had been taken by the employees on the question of a strike.

"We will wait till Debs is out of jail," said one of the talkers, "and see what he has to say about it after his reception. It will be a big one, and not be confined to Chicago. A.R.U. men from all over the country will take part in it."

"William E. Burns, of the A.R.U. directory, was in consultation with local labor men nearly all day yesterday. It is understood that they were arranging to have sister cities notified of the arrangements for the Debs reception, and to have the members of the order advised as to what action might be expected in case a strike is ordered on the Northern line. That the Great Northern line is expecting a strike is shown by its agents in this city recruiting a number of men. A force of 500 is held in readiness in this city to move on short notice. Numbers of the recruits said they had been told to report for leaving the city last night and this morning in a second had been told they would go to Salt Lake City. Mr. Jewitt, who was the chief functionary in charge, said the public would learn developments as soon as there was anything to be given out.

"Other railroads claim to be taking no concern in the situation. General Agent Foxworthy, of the Northern Pacific, said his road expected no trouble with its employees, either for cause or sympathy. Officials of the Chicago and Northwestern, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and other roads tributary to the Great Northern Railroad, declared there was no chance for disaffection with their men if a general strike did not ensue in the Northwest."

HELD FOR MURDER.

Adolph Neise and Wife Arrested at Colville, Wash. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) OTTUMWA (Iowa), Nov. 6.—Advices from the prosecuting attorney at Colville, Wash., says that Adolph Neise and his wife are held for the murder of the first Mrs. Neise and her son, Adolph Neise, Jr. Neise's present wife was the aunt of the child. On the morning of February 22, 1893, fire was discovered in the home of Adolph Neise, foreman of Silberman Bros.' hide and wool store in this city, and the building was consumed. The residents were awakened in the morning to learn that not only had the fire destroyed the property of the Neises, but that Mrs. Neise and her little child Adolph, nine months old, had been burned to death.

So many suspicious circumstances were connected with the fire that Neise was indicted by the coroner's jury. Although acquitted, he was compelled to leave the city in a carriage, driving to a neighboring town, for fear of a mob which was forming. He was never seen again in Ottumwa. He went to Chicago, where he was joined by Hattie Pauline, his dead wife's sister, whom he married. It is said Neise was infatuated with his wife's sister.

A COOL HEAD.

Miss Alice Hamilton Walks Off with a Store Cloak. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6.—When the police arrested Miss Alice Hamilton they captured without doubt the most adroit shop-lifter the city has known in many a day. She was arrested at the office of E. M. Ward, manager of the Transit Coal Company, where she was employed as a stenographer. Yesterday she entered the store, Vanvoroot & Barney's drygoods store, and coolly opened one of the glass cases and selected a beautiful mink-skin cloak worth $150, put it on and walked out. Miss Hamilton was recognized by an acquaintance, a saleswoman, who noticed her supposed purchase, and went to the fur department to ascertain who had made the sale. It was then discovered that the cloak had been stolen. Miss Hamilton admitted she had taken it and told where the cloak could be found. Instead of a single cloak the detectives found her room packed with drygoods of every description, valued at from $250 to $400. Miss Hamilton claims to be a kleptomaniac and says she did not steal the goods for profit.
